Sewer Problems Plaguing Many Township Residents

Olivia Applegate has been waiting for Township Committee to act. She was told by the state's Department of Environmental Protection that the DEP could do nothing about her sewer problem until that time.

Wait for Committee to act then write a complaint, the DEP told her, and before a sewer permit is issued, we'll send a crew around to look at your property.

Last Wednesday, Township Committee voted 4-1 to overturn the Planning Board's denial of site plan approval for Phases II and III of the Bowers Development office complex off Terhune Road, Gail Firestone voting "no". This means that Bowers is now free to go ahead with its three-building project.

But Mrs. Applegate, who lives on the banks of Harry's Brook and has called it "a strong, polluted river," doesn't want any upstream development like Bowers, until downstream sewer problems, like hers, can be corrected.

Grovers Mill Pond, Now But a Shallow Stream, May Remain So Unless Problems Are Solved

What has happened to Grovers Mill Pond?

The waters that powered a grist mill dating to colonial times are all dried up. Where Canada geese raised goslings in the spring, waterfowl rested on fall migration and skaters glided in winter, there is only the shallow winding stream bed of Bear Brook.

Sandpipers and killdeer pick among the weedy growth and accumulated silt along the bottom of what was a 37-acre pond. The pond extended from a dam directly under Clarksville Road at Cranbury Road all the way to the high tension electric lines crossing Princeton-Hightstown Road. Residents considered it a community asset as well as a natural resource.

The water was drained from Grovers Mill Pond last fall by the owner, C. Lawrence Dey, retired farmer, with the concurrence of the Grovers Mill Pond Committee appointed by West Windsor Township to assess the future of the pond. The draining was done in response to a N.J. Department of Environmental Protection directive to Mr. Dey ordering engineering studies and corrections to certain deficiencies in the dam and the spillway noted in a 1979 inspection.

The inspection was part of a nationwide program begun by the Army Corps of Engineers in the early 1970's to assess the safety of small dams. Grovers Mill dam was inspected in the fall of 1979 by engineers under contract with the New Jersey DEP. The dam, which is a broad earth embankment under the road, was found to be in fair overall condition but not in compliance with standards set for dams of its size and location.

The spillway, a five-sided concrete structure next to the dam, was found to be "inadequate." Its design capacity was deemed to be no longer sufficient for the higher water levels that result from greater run-off from paved-over development and from heavy rains.

When precipitation is as high as it was in 1971 and 1975, the spillway is not big enough to keep the pond level from rising above the top of the dam, which is also Clarksville Road. When the dam overflows, it is sub-

Princeton May Join in Suit Against State, Filed Over Loss of Minimum Aid to Schools

The school district of Fairfield is scheduled to file a class action suit against the State of New Jersey this week, as a result of last Wednesday's meeting of 23 school districts called by Princeton to make plans for retrieving money cut by the state legislature.

Princeton's school board will decide in September whether to participate in the suit as a friend of the court, or file suit on its own.

The Fairfield suit, to be filed on behalf of all minimum-aid districts, names the Governor, the Legislature, the Appropriations Committee and the Commissioner of Education. It charges that their action in eliminating minimum aid was "arbitrary, capricious and discriminatory."

Also, according to Princeton Superintendent Paul Houston, it declares there is no rational basis other than political expediency for the formula used to select the districts that were cut.

Princeton is one of 85 districts that lost all minimum aid — for Princeton the loss is $524,000 — in action taken by the Legislature in late June.

Angered by news stories referring to the "rich" and "wealthy" districts that planned strategy last Wednesday at the Nassau Inn, Dr. Houston emphasized that "our first item of concern was an agreement to press for full funding for all districts."

He was referring to the fact that every New Jersey district suffered cuts in equalization aid, compared to the 85 who suffered the minimum aid cut.

In a prepared statement, which he has been referring to as "my tirade," and which refers to "the coldly cynical maneuvering by the Legislature," Dr. Houston declares that "poor districts received the biggest blow because they were most dependent on state aid."

The superintendent has also written to Governor Thomas H. Kean; President of the Senate Carmen A. Orecchio and Speaker of the Assembly Alan J. Karcher.

In his letter, Dr. Houston calls on the Governor to convene an emergency session of the Legislature this month to deal with "the financial crisis in education."

"We will not rest until you have done your duty," the letter to the Governor continues.

"You can be assured we will not accept rhetoric in place of action, and we will not go away and be quiet. If the goal of state actions over the last few months was intended to politicize school boards, parent groups and school personnel, you can be satisfied that goal has been met."

School districts agreed last week to wait and see, before making any decisions about cutting staff or program. But they will organize, politically, in their own districts.

They endorsed legislation (A1782) introduced by Assemblywoman Mildred Barry Garvin, which would restore all school aid.

In Princeton, Dr. Houston said, he and school board vice-president

Princeton Man Is Killed In Fall from Mountain

Roger F. Kirkpatrick, a 41-year old teacher and experienced mountain climber who grew up in Princeton, plunged to his death July 29 while on a mountain climbing expedition in China.

He was the son of Roger B. and Nancy G. Kirkpatrick of Cherry Valley Road, who were informed of their son's death in a telephone call from Peking last Saturday from his climbing partner, Steve Creer, a 38-year old Colorado physician. Mr. Creer has said he will call the family with further details when he returns to the United States with three other members of the expedition this Wednesday.

According to the official Xinhua news agency in China, Mr. Kirkpatrick fell from a cliff on Mt. Muztgata in the northwest Xinjiang region a day after reaching the 24,757-foot summit. The mountain is known locally as "father of the icy mountains," the agency said. It was the highest mountain that Mr. Kirkpatrick had ever climbed, but according to his family he had had 22 years of mountaineering experience on five continents, including Alaska's Mt. McKinley where he had helped recover the bodies of four fellow climbers who had lost their lives.

Michael Tomalin will assemble a political action citizens committee. This group will be in touch with people who have contributed money to legislators, asking them to exert pressure.

Princeton is also withholding the $11,000 annual dues it pays to the New Jersey School Boards Association.

The 23 districts are talking about a rally of Parent Teacher Organizations, teachers' unions, school boards and local governments, timed to the reconvening of the Legislature. Such a rally, Dr. Houston said, would probably be held in Union County.

"I was amazed at how much consensus we were able to reach," the superintendent remarked, as he reported on the closed session.

He added that districts were widely varied. Hackensack, for example, has many low-income citizens, but substantial rateables behind each school child because of many nearby shopping centers.

Hackensack has only $55,000 in reserves, Dr. Houston discovered. In contrast, Milburn has several million in unappropriated reserves.

In his " tirade," the superintendent states that the 85 districts whose minimum aid was removed, face two choices: "cut necessary programs, or pass on the responsibility for paying for these programs to the local taxpayers, who are already paying more than 90 percent of the budgets, and who are already sending far more money into the state treasury than they are receiving back in state services."

Sewers

George Olexa, secretary of Princeton's Sewer Operating Committee, pointed out once again this week that "there is so much sewer work to do, and such limited amounts of money."

He questioned whether the DEP has jurisdiction to help either the problem or Mrs. Applegate. He said that, to his knowledge, the DEP had never done the kind of on-site inspection Mrs. Applegate wants.

When Princeton and the DEP signed the agreement that modified Princeton's sewer ban, Mr. Olexa explained, there was only one exception:

"The Mountain Avenue-Valley Road trunk system was identified as the worst," he said. "So most of the SOC's work and money has gone into systems that flow into it. The work we're doing now on Moore Street is part of that."

The SOC could change its priorities, he said, "but we must weigh the Random Road problem against our current plan, and the problems on Valley Road."

He said that no sewer connections have been permitted from Route 206 west to Cherry Hill. Developer Albert Salzman has been trying to obtain a permit for a new subdivision, Mr. Olexa said, but has been refused.

The Bowers property is not in that Mountain-Valley system, nor is Mrs. Applegate's, on Random Road.

He added that no word has come to him about conditions on Random Road from either the board of health or the superintendent of facilities for the SOC.

Dennis Van Horn, sanitarian with the board of health, said Mrs. Applegate has conferred with him twice about the situation on Random Road.

She lives at 98 Random Road Raw sewage, she says, overflows during rainy periods when lids of manholes blow. With Random Road neighbors Seymour Bogdanoff and Dwight O'Nord, she told Committee about the health hazards produced by the leaky old sewer system.

"You're making a bad situation worse," Mr. Bogdanoff warned Committee, as it pondered whether to reverse the Planning Board.

But Township attorney Edwin Schmierer had advised Committee that these sewer problems were not grounds for turning down the Bowers project.

"We've heard a lot of eloquent comment from the Random Road people, and I'm in complete sympathy," Committee member George Adriance told Wednesday night's audience. "But we've been advised by our lawyer that legally, we can't help."

He suggested the Township might have to make a capital outlay to relieve the problem, or change sewer-repair priorities.

He then reminded Committee and audience that Bowers meets all required criteria.

"That whole area has a problem," he observed.

Bob Clausen, who directs facilities for the SOC, said much the same: "It's a normal thing, during storms, and has been for 30 years or more. The state is aware."

Actually, Mr. Olexa observed, the situation is better than it was. When the Alexander sewer connection was made in 1980 the system was, in effect, cut in half and pressure on the trunk line was relieved.

Deadline for completing all sewer repair is December 31, 1985. But the survey of sewer problems made by the late Arthur Brokaw, was completed in 1969. Who knows what problems have surfaced — or are buried — since that time? Mr. Olexa asks.

Money is the problem.

What Kind of Aid?

Two terms — "equalization" aid and "minimum" aid — have been used in stories about Princeton's school finance predicament.

Equalization aid is paid to school districts by the state under a formula based on a town's assessed valuation, ability to pay, community assets and number of pupils.

Under that formula, however, over 200 districts wouldn't have gotten anything at all. Since they were at the top of the economic scale, pouring a lot of income tax money into the state, it seemed politically wise to give them something.

Minimum aid solves that problem. The minimum aid formula is tied to the size of the district — the number of children it has in public school.

The combined equalization aid-minimum aid cut made by the Legislature was $70 million; of that — depending on who is counting and how — about $14 million was minimum aid. The figure of $18 million is also heard.

Bowers will pay over $100,000 into a sewer repair trust fund, but to Mrs. Applegate's dismay, it won't go toward Random Road repair unless the SOC changes its order of projects to do next.

The Federal government has once again made sewer funds available, Mr. Olexa says. But Princeton, asking for $2.5 million, is Number 69 on the state's list of about 200 towns. The DEP expects money in 1983 for 20.

Johnson Sculptures Violate Zoning Law; First National Bank Will Ask for Variance

She's a nice dumpling of a grandma, dressed a bit warmly for this time of year, but apparently happy — sitting there knitting, obviously aware of the letter by her side — "Congratulations! Here's a picture of your newest grandson...." Just as you're about to sit down for a chat, you notice something: she's made of bronze.

Another J Seward Johnson sculpture

Near the bench where she sits, huddled under concealing bushes, are three grinning little boys. They're ogling the centerfold of a girlie magazine. Real boys, they are. One even has lugs on the soles of his boots. Bronze, all the way.

These sculptures are part of the First National Bank's park, adjoining the bank's East Nassau branch at the head of Markham. You've already seen the agile skateboarder, frozen into the concrete near the bank entrance.

They're in the news because, although they are legal, some other Johnson sculptures in the park haven't been, and the bank must go before the Borough Zoning Board (August 26) to ask for a use variance

A sculpture is a "structure", under zoning law. A structure must be so many feet back from the street. If you remember the two frisbie players, the workman sitting on a bench eating his lunch, the man leaning against a tree and reading, you'll recall that they were close to the street. That's why they have been removed.

It all began, explains Peter D. Halstead, executive vice-president of the bank, when First National decided to exhibit the one-of-a-kind work of apprentices in the Johnson sculpture atelier. As bank customers know, most of these are small, indoor works, rarely in Mr. Johnson's style of extreme realism.

Then, the bank asked Mr. Johnson if he himself had a piece or two, perhaps something awaiting shipment to a purchaser. If such were the case, why not exhibit it outside, instead of storing it in a warehouse? Hence the skateboarder, the frisbie players and the rest.

dead rabbit on her porch and another resident, who is afraid to give her name, found a load of trash dumped on her porch. Obviously, both women say, in retaliation.

So, when Thomas Parker, special projects chairman of the new Princeton University employees' organization known as ABLEp (Association of Black and Hispanic Employees at Princeton), wrote the Borough asking for a Street Festival permit, Council hesitated.

"Do residents of the area really want it?" asked Council member Barbara Hill.

And Council, at its agenda session last Thursday, decided to spread the word: come to Council's Tuesday meeting and let us know whether you want this festival or not.

Mr. Parker explained in his letter that ABLEp is planning the Street Festival as a benefit for sickle-cell anemia. Not only will there be games for kids, demonstrations of martial arts, basketball, live music and a guest disk-jockey, but also a nurse to test people for sickle-cell.

ABLEp would like to hold the Festival on Sunday, August 29, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and is asking to have Clay Street closed off.

"It's a residential area, and not the right place for such a crowd," said Borough Ad-

The bank displays, the atelier shows. When the atelier wants to move a piece, it does so, replacing it with something else.

"The bank intended the park to be used by people, for having a lunch or just resting," Mr. Halstead says. "We felt that sculpture would enhance the park."

Problems arise because the area is in two zones. The skateboarder doesn't need a variance because he's outside the bank building, which is in a neighborhood-business zone with different rules. The park, on the other hand, is in an R-2 residential zone, and "structures" must be 50 feet back from the street.

This Wednesday at 2, the use variance review committee of the Planning Board is scheduled to meet for a talk about the bank's request. Although the sculptures are on the August 26 Zoning Board agenda, there are five items on the agenda. The bank is number five, so it may be early fall before the frisbie players and the workman with his lunch can return to the park.

Katharine H. Bretnall

Administrator Mark Gordon. Previous block parties in the area, he said, have drawn over 500 people.

The Borough has no ordinance about block parties. It's customary for neighborhoods to have them, but Ms. Hill says "this is a bigger, community-wide event. What about parking, for one thing? If the neighborhood itself doesn't want it, we don't have to allow it."

4 YOUTHS ARRESTED

On University Campus, Three Township juveniles and one Borough youth, ages 15 and 16, were charged with possession of controlled dangerous substances and weapons, after they were arrested Sunday night near Wilcox Hall. All were later released to their parents.

Sgt. William Fitch and Patrolmen Chris Boutote and Anthony Federico responded to an 8:15 call for aid by university proctors, who had apprehended the youths in a Wilcox Hall walkway after hearing the sound of breaking glass.

According to police, one youth had a silver container in his possession which is believed to have contained hashish and marijuana. A second had a hashish pipe and a 9-inch knife with a wooden handle; from a third youth police recovered a 9 and $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch Buck knife and a small brown plastic bag believed to contain marijuana.

Township police arrested three juveniles ages 16 and 17, early last week and charged them with being under the influence of alcohol.

The youths, two residents of the Township, one from the Borough, were arrested after Ptl. Mario Musso stopped at 10:30 p.m. to investigate an empty car parked off Mercer Road. When he heard a noise coming from the column monument on Battlefield Park, he investigated, found the youths and arrested them.

His investigation was turned over to the Township Juvenile Officer, who said that charges will be forwarded to the Mercer County Juvenile Court.

Trespasser Charged. Twenty-four year old Jeffrey Kirby of Nassau Street, was charged with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana, after he was arrested at 4:21 Sunday morning for trespassing on the PCH Hearing.

This Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall is the scheduled time for the Borough Zoning Board hearing on Princeton Community Housing's request for a use variance for 101 units of housing in the old Borough sewer field off Elm Road.

PCH needs five affirmative votes from the board to receive the variance, and it is understood that precisely that number of members will be available to hear the case.

If the board turns down the request, PCH is expected to appeal the decision to Borough Council. The non-profit organization still does not have from the Federal department of Housing and Urban Development a requested extension of the September 30 ground-breaking deadline.

University Press lot off William Street.

Borough police responded after receiving a call from university security to check out a suspicious person. Kirby, issued a summons, faces a hearing in Borough court September 15.

A 16-year old Borough youth was arrested Friday night after he was observed by a proctor allegedly smoking a marijuana cigarette in the Woodrow Wilson building plaza.

A proctor made the arrest and called police who took the youth to headquarters for processing. The marijuana cigarette was confiscated and the youth later regeased to his mother.

Solicitors Arrested. Two out-of-town residents, Robin Coleman, 18, of Roslindale, Mass., and Milton Buskey, 21, of Richmond, Va., have been charged by Township police with soliciting magazine sales without first obtaining a permit -- a violation of a Township ordinance.

The two were arrested in the Parkside Drive area, after they had previously been refused a permit by Chief Anthony Pinelli. They are employed by the American Community Service, Inc.

Frances L. Durst, 28, of Neshanic was arrested last week for contempt of court for two motor vehicle violations that had been issued by Township police.

Police report that Ms. Durst had come to headquarters to make an inquiry about the tickets and when confronted with the details had refused to post the bail of $100.

BUILDING IS TARGET OF VANDALS. Someone doesn't like someone in or something about the 33 Witherspoon Street building on the corner of Spring Street which is leased by the John T. Henderson realty firm.

Early last week during the night, someone threw about four eggs at a front display window, front door and brick facade. The caller told police it was the second time in two days the building had been struck by eggs. The previous day, the front door had been pelted by eggs, the caller reported.

Borough police report that a week earlier, the modern building had been the target of various acts of vandalism.

They report that ceiling tile in an elevator had been broken, a fire alarm bell removed and liquid spilled on a fire hose box. In addition, human excrement was found in an outside stairwell facing Spring Street.

POLICE GET PRESENT NEW TERMINAL. "Without it," explained Police Lt. Thomas Michaud, "we just don't get a lot of information on things going on around us."

"It" is the new $10,000 computer terminal Borough Council has decided to buy for the police. Actually, the accent is on "new" because originally, Council wanted to save money and buy a used terminal for only $7,400.

But there was so much discussion and delay that all the used terminals were gobbled up. Besides, the municipality needs state approval for a line to hook the terminal to, and for a time, they were all gone, too. Now there are more, Council has decided to dig deeper into its pocket for the additional money, and Borough police will have a new terminal.

Police Commissioner Barbara Hill told colleagues on Council that the long arm of the terminal will reach out to tap out-of-state drivers who have Borough parking tickets.

"It will bring in money," she said happily.

Council members weren't happy about doing this kind of thing between budgets, but there is, in the capital improvement fund, $100,000 originally approved for the defunct parking garage. Money can only be used for capital improvement, and the terminal is a natural.

KNOW YOUR TOWN!: It's the new League of Women Voters handbook and directory — new, but with a familiar title: "Know Your Town." A flip format gives immediate access, say Karen Woodbridge (right) and Lisa Potter, editors. The handbook and directory will be available in mid-September.

Council has also decided to ask for money under the Small Cities Community Development block grant. Newly transferred to the states from the Federal government, this grant provides 100 percent funding, and Council wants the money for rehabilitation of the Maple Terrace public housing.

"Princeton's chances are excellent," beamed Charles Nathanson, consultant in planning, housing and development, invited to Council's meeting by Richard Woodbridge.

Mercer County Freeholder — and Borough resident — Barbara Sigmund came, too. She said first preference will be given to economic development projects, and second priority to housing. Then she advised the Borough not to make its application through Mercer County, which is one of the 266 New Jersey entities eligible for the state's $11.3 million.

"This is the best opportunity ever to get a share of Federal community development money," Mr. Nathanson told Council. "Governor Kean is eager to get the money on the street. It's in two cycles — one now, and one early in '83."

A short deadline — September 1 — means the Borough will have to hustle. So far, there are not even any application forms (Mr. Nathanson told Council that Congress "didn't get its act together"), and the Borough doesn't know how much it will ask for. Mr. Nathanson's fee is included in the grant.

checks at the Princeton Savings and Loan on Nassau Street during late June and early July.

According to Captain John J. Bellow, the checks were made out to and endorsed by Jeffrey Whitley--two for amounts of $100, one for $40. The blank Savings and Loan checks have been reported stolen from a Lawrence Township home.

Each of the check transactions by the 24-year old suspect was captured on videotape and aided Det. Gerald Patterson in his follow-up investigation.

"We don't know where he's at. We're trying to find him," commented Capt. Bellow.

FIVE CLOCKS STOLEN

From Witherspoon St. Store. Five desk and shelf clocks with a combined value of $1,044 were stolen last week from Van Dommelen's Clocks and Ceiling Fans, 164 Witherspoon Street.

Police report that someone pried open the front door to enter the shop. "We have no suspects," said Capt. John J. Bellow.

A first floor screen was pushed in between 11 Sunday night and 6:45 the next morning to enter a John Street apartment.

Taken, police report, were a portable color television set, a stereo system and a 35 mm camera. The items are valued at $1,100.

$106,000 THEFT

At Studio 12. Approximately $104,000 in jewelry and $2,000 in cash were stolen last week from Studio 12 in the Montgomery Center in Rocky Hill.

Montgomery police responded at 9:30 Thursday morning, after a cleaning man had discovered the overnight theft. The initial investigation revealed that entry had been gained to the store, which also is the headquarters for several independently-owned craft businesses, by cutting a hole in the roof. Police noted that although the store's alarm system had not been tampered with, the burglars somehow managed to circumvent it.

The store's owner, Ron Woods had left on a plane trip to Wisconsin that morning, police said, and was informed of the theft while in the air.

Montgomery police, who are being assisted in their investigation of the theft by investigators from the Somerset County Burglary Task Force, request that anyone who saw or heard anything suspicious the night of August 4 or the following morning call them at 201-359-3222.

THEFT REPORT

Second Oscilloscope Taken. Princeton University has reported the second theft of an oscilloscope from a laboratory room in the Engineering Quadrangle.

A scope used to test electronic equipment and valued at $1,425 was taken sometime between June and August 4 from a room that had allegedly been locked. Police report, however, there were no signs of forced entry.

The previous week, university officials listed the theft of a $2,355 oscilloscope from a different room in the Engineering Quadrangle building. That theft took place several days before it was reported on July 27.

A short wave AM-FM cassette player valued at $300 was taken during a fifteen-minute period Sunday night from an unlocked car parked on University Place. The victim is a resident of Witherspoon Street.

A Valley Road resident last week listed the theft of his 10-speed bicycle from the rear of the University Press building on William Street, the $200 bicycle was unlocked, police said.

Your trees and shrubs contribute to your lifestyle and to your mental and physical well-being. They contribute to the beauty of your home and the environment by moderating temperatures and reducing glare, dust, noise and pollutants. They excite our mental alertness and furnish a haven from our frustrations and anxieties.

Our immediate visual needs are usually fulfilled when we look over our property. It is a basic expression of our personalities, our lifestyle and our need for privacy. Unfortunately, we sometimes become slaves to our creation. To avoid constant care one of the best suggestions WOODWINDS can offer to the homeowner is SIMPLICITY. Remember that your foundation planting and the trees you choose for your property are going to be a major financial investment. Choose your plants with care. Consider a "live-year plan." Budget a certain amount each year and purchase a few large plants rather than dozens of small plants.

Lots of little plants will take years to grow while in a few years the larger plants will give your property a look of permanence. You don't want to be old and gray before you can appreciate what your landscape is supposed to look like. The same is true with the trees you purchase. Why not have one large tree that you will be able to sit under within five years, rather than live or six sticks waiting to grow up?

As you plan your landscape, remember to properly fertilize, prune and spray your prized possessions. They are an investment and part of you.

Call WOODWINDS (924-3500) to assist in setting up an annual spray and feeding program.

FOR SERVICE ABOVE AND BEYOND: Dickey Dyer, second from left, was presented the Rotary Extra Mile Award for his service as a trustee and treasurer of the corporation of The Presbyterian Homes of New Jersey. Making the presentation at a meeting of the Rotary Club of Lawrence Township are, from left, Princeton Rotarian Ellis G. "Jess" Willerd, president of The Presbyterian Homes; Richard A. Spaulding Jr., director of service programs for Lawrence Rotary, and H.C. "Jack" Frost, outgoing president of Lawrence Rotary.

According to Lt. Jack Petrone, the area is fenced off and access to the boat had to have been made by water.

SIX ARE FINED

In Township Court. Six Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township Court by Judge Sydney Souter.

Four paid fines of $40 each for motor vehicle violations. They are Steven E. Lederman, 205 Nassau Street, and Ionel Belcea, 11 Carterbrook Lane, both stop sign infractions; George V. Kalschmid, Euclid Avenue, Kingston, failure to give proper signal, and Jacqueline A. Guernsey, 135A Chatham Drive, Cranbury, careless driving. Andrew K. Stenard, 57 Randall Road, paid $25 for no insurance card in possession.

In criminal court, Anthony K. Bailey, R.D. 4, Lincoln Highway, was fined $50 for harassment. He was found not guilty on a second charge of assault.

Drunk Driver Fined. In Borough traffic court Monday, Judge Russell W. Annich Jr. fined William Herbert, 218 Birch Avenue, $265 and revoked his license for six months for driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was fined an additional $40 on a second charge of failure to yield the right of way.

Fined for speeding were Franz Djorup, 128 Herrontown Road, $20; Margaret Tuch-man, 633 Prospect Avenue, $23, and William V. Walters, 169 Washington Street, Rocky Hill. Mr. Walters also paid $10 as an unlicensed driver.

A pedestrian, Elizabeth Boyd, 478 Ewing Street, was fined $20 for failure to yield the right of way, while a red light violation cost Antoine Teanglis, 173 Nassau Street, $30.

Others: Judy A. Barker, 7 Pennington-Lawrenceville Road, $20, unregistered vehicle; Robert W. McCullough, 22 Berkshire Drive, Princeton Junction, and Ram K. Chopra, 16 Krabs Road, Plainsboro, both $15 for overdue inspection. The latter also paid $10, unregistered vehicle.

NEW MINICOMPUTERS
Gift to University. The Digital Equipment Corporation has given Princeton University a minicomputer system to use in the University's digital signal processing laboratory.

Using the specialized analog and digital facilities in the lab., students and faculty from several disciplines do research in signal processing, communications, acoustics and speech. The lab., which is operated jointly by the department of electrical engineering and computer science and the department of music, is also used for musical composition research.

The new computer system will help to modernize the lab., which has been in existence since 1971. Its directors are Paul Lansky and Kenneth Steiglitz of the University faculty.

"Freedom of the City" Ends Season For NewStage on Powerful Note

It would be a more than fittin' thing ta say that NewStage closed its first summer season on a fine, high note, thanks to a powerful production of Irish Playwright Brian Friel's "Freedom of the City."

A tense, angry, clever, funny, painful play, "Freedom" makes tough demands of authenticity and passion on a cast, and in this production, director Veronica Brady has made sure that no drop of Irish nuance or pathos is shed in vain. Therin lies the play's obvious power -- its dramatic treatment of "the Irish question" -- and also its biggest potential trap, for the playwright's message is repeated again and again.

Through the overt action and the device of objective commentary, the Irish problem is explored as a which leaves characters delivering speeches instead of talking with each other. The spontaneity necessary to keep the play sweeping along was sadly missing.

But, pace notwithstanding, the strong energy of the major characters and the complex craft of the "drama outside the drama" kept audience attention keen.

Based on Actual Incident. The story is an intriguing one: three total strangers escaping from a tear gas attack by British troops in 1970. Modeled on an actual incident involving the death of 13 Catholics murdered in 1972 on what has come to be called "Bloody Sunday," the play focuses on three Irish commonfolk who stumble into an open doorway and discover that they have taken cover in the Lord Mayor's office, the Guildhall; an action that is subsequently interpreted by the media, the public and the British Army as "a highly symbolic act of defiance." The three come to share the dreams and pains and triumphs of each other's lives, weaving and bobbing tipily through the dangerous afternoon, unaware of their celebrated notoriety and the radical threat their behavior is posing to British security.

Petie Duncan, as Lily Daugherty (mother of eleven and out to march in her good coat) is at the same time pitiable and potent. Aware in the final scene that life has eluded her, Lily still knows her worth to the world of her family, to their afternoon tea. With just the right combination of desperation and dignity, Ms. Duncan deals Lily's ironic blows.

human problem; the Irish problem is decried as a world problem; the Irish problem is identified as our problem. And the converse also holds: the human problem is an Irish problem. And so on. Will Ireland ever be free?

It is no small task for an audience to stay interested in such a heavy-headed bombardment, and no small credit should be given to director and cast for making it palatable. Nonetheless, the production often bogs down in its own pedantry, due in part to an aggressive attention to precise dialect and inflection, and chooses to ground himself instead in justice, some sort of justice.

"It's mad," she says with incredulous laughter, thinking about her children and husband waiting at home for tea and wondering where she is (while outside the room where she sits, unknown to her, hundreds of British soldiers are planning to gun her down without mercy for occupying the seat of British power in Londonderry; and hundreds of thousands of the world's poor are struggling without hope.) "It's mad, bloody mad," she laughs brightly to her companions, "ta be sittin' in the mayor's parlor on a Saturday afternoon!"

Doesn't anything else strike you as mad? The playwright seems to be screaming to the audience through frantic, tender Lily. But as she herself admits, and for a time believes, the only reason she participates in these freedom marches is because it's the only exercise she gets.

Skinner, the hooligan, is a slippery, glib tough, whose instincts are proven again and again to be right, but whose lifestyle places him to the left and in the wrong. He alone of the three sees the fatal outcome of their chance meeting in this sacred place, and he alone knows not to trust anyone. Kevin Groom plays the young braggart with easy roughness and sudden, dark strength.

Michael, the student, the serious member of the movement, the one of the three who thinks he really understands the reason for protest, is played with a fierce, almost Victorian primness by Joe Quinn. Michael is alternately shocked and enraged by his fellow captives' sacrilegious attitudes toward the cause and toward the office of public responsibility in which they now sit. A moralist and an unrelenting disciple, he soon alienates himself from their cynical but lively counterplay,

The Tivoli Gardens is a Sensational Sunday Brunch.

Start with our sensational variety of seafood like herring, shrimp, and salmon. Or, if you're in the mood for an old fashioned breakfast, then how about some good old fashioned favorites, like homemade Danish pastries, breads and croissants still hot from the oven. Plus roast beef or lamb, quiches, and a fantastic array of salads. And that's just a small taste of our sensational Sunday Brunch. Want to find out more? See you Sunday.

terrible mistake: three simple strangers who stagger blindly through a nameless side door in a faceless building have become to the world forty armed revolutionaries, bent on destroying the very symbol of British domination in Derry. It is a heroic play, with no heroes — except perhaps for the performers and the technicians, who make "Freedom of the City" an unforgettable evening.

ABOUT WAR
Boer and WWI. World War I and the Boer War provide the background for both films in the next double-feature scheduled for Summer Cinema. Screenings will be in Kresge Auditorium of Frick Chemical Building, Washington Road, this Wednesday through Sunday.

"Breaker Morant" will be shown at 7:30 and "Black and White in Color" at 9:30.

cent Australian films, is laid in 1901 during the Boer War in South Africa. Harry Morant, a horse-breaker, is an Australian soldier fighting with the British Army. The film combines the courtroom drama of Morant's court martial, and flashbacks of the incident that led to his arrest.

"Black and White in Color," which won a 1976 Oscar as Best Foreign Film, is set in West Africa in 1914, where the inhabitants of a small French trading post live next to members of an equally small German garrison. Germans drill their black recruits and the French go about their business, until news arrives that the two nations are now at war.

As French patriots start a march on the German fort, what began as a comedy turns into a tragi-comedy about the senselessness of war, and the way circumstances create leaders.

"Breaker Morant" will be shown at 7:30 and "Black and White in Color" at 9:30.

SOUNDS OF A SUMMER NIGHT: These members of the New World String Quartet will play in the courtyard of the Graduate College on Wednesday, August 18, in the last of the summer season's series of free chamber concerts. The program will consist of Mozart, Bartok and Tschaikowsky.

MUSIC

In Princeton

ROCK, SOUTHERN STYLE

At Community Park North, The George Dickey Band will rock Community Park North, southern style, this Thursday at 7:30.

The band describes itself as having "One foot in New Jersey and one in Alabama." With three musicians from the north and two from the south, the group plays a combination of rock'n'roll, country and blues.

The concert is the first of four additional concerts to the Summer Sounds series. On Thursday, August 19, at noon the Export Band, a progressive jazz band, will be featured at 185 Nassau Street, in a special concert made possible by donations from Cox's Market and Thomas Sweets. Thursday evening, August 19, Crystal Silence, a classic jazz band, will perform at Community Park.

The final concert on Thursday, August 26, will feature the Ivy League Rasta Music of The Groceries. There will not be rain dates for these last four concerts.

Free Summer Sounds concerts are sponsored by the Arts Council in cooperation with the Recreation Department and a grant from the Youth Fund. The series has been extended this year due to the generous support of the concert-goers.

Community Park North is reached from Mountain Avenue at the end of Bayard Lane.

STRINGS OUTDOORS
For Final Concert. The last free outdoor chamber concert of the summer season will be given next Wednesday, August 18 at 8:30 in the main courtyard of Princeton University's Graduate College.

Performers will be the New World String Quartet, winner of the 1979 Naumburg competition, whose four members met during rehearsals of the Grand Rapids Symphony in Michigan.

For their Princeton appearance, they have chosen Mozart's "Hofmeister" Quartet (K.499); Bartok's Quartet Number 3 and Tschaikowsky's Quartet in E-flat minor, Opus 30.

The New World will be visiting artists at Harvard next year, presenting a series of three concerts, and giving master classes as part of the first year of the Blodgett Chamber Music Series. They will also perform in Alice Tully Hall in New York, and will make a tour of the West Coast.

Those who attend the outdoor concert should take blankets or chairs. In case of rain, the concert will be held in Alexander Hall, and if the weather is uncertain, the location of the concert may be learned by calling 924-2353 after 4 the day of the concert.

in his behalf. Contributors may make out a check payable to The Arts Council of Princeton, marked "For the Christopher Sanborn Fund." Checks may be sent to 13 Butternut Row, Princeton.

The pianist will perform part of his contest repertoire this Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road. The public is invited to attend.

"The Arts Council would like young artists from our community to be able to further their careers," says Jean Parsons, vice-president of the organization.

A student at Princeton High School and an alumnus of the American Boychoir School, Mr. Sanborn studied at the Juilliard School and the State Universities of New York. The quartet he founded, "Quartet Montage," won two 1981 competitions, and made its Carnegie Hall debut in January.

A LOT OF BRASS

In Summer Concert. The Trenton Brass Quintet Plus One will give a free concert this Saturday at 7 p.m. in Mercer County Park, West Windsor next to the skating rink. The concert is one of a series sponsored by the county's Cultural and Heritage Division, with Local 62 and the Music Performance Trust Fund.

The quintet-plus-one plays classics and moderns, ranging from Gabrieli to Scott Joplin and John Philip Sousa. Karl Megules, tuba, is director. Other members are Kenneth Phillips, trumpet; James Tuozzolo, trumpet; Karl Rechtenwald, trumpet; Jane Richter, horn and Peter Reichlin, trombone.

ARTS SUPPORT

For Young Pianist. The Arts Council of Princeton announced last week its support of Princeton pianist Christopher Sanborn, who is entering the International Competition for Musical Performers in Geneva early next month.

The Council is supporting young Sanborn by accepting tax-deductible contributions

The concept of keeping all business in the center of the Princeton Shopping Center is every bit as valid as the day when the original ordinance was adopted by the Princeton Township Committee.

However, that concept will be placed in jeopardy if, as proposed, the ordinance is amended to permit construction of a free-standing motor banking installation by Princeton Bank.

Twice before, in 1975 and 1976, Princeton Bank tried to get permission to put in such a facility at the Princeton Shopping Center. In both cases, the proposal failed to obtain the necessary supporting votes from members of the Township Zoning Board of Adjustment.

In the first instance because, quoting from the minutes of the Zoning Board: "There is not sufficient evidence to overcome the negative criteria in that it would appear that the proximity of the proposed location so close to a series of residences would in fact be substantially detrimental to which is now expected to handle the traffic that will be created by the three office buildings being constructed on Bunn Drive as well as that emanating from the two structures of Bowers Development Corp. on Thanet Road.

Obviously, this section of Princeton Township is rapidly becoming commercialized. The residential character of our neighborhood must not be further eroded. To allow construction of a drive-in bank in the Princeton Shopping Center would be another step in that direction.

Chris Sanborn's Artistry.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Last Saturday night at the Westminster Playhouse we had the extraordinary pleasure of hearing the exquisite musicianship of Christopher Sanborn, who played two piano concerti, one by Mozart and one by Beethoven.

We will be fortunate enough to hear him play once more at the Unitarian Church of Princeton this Saturday evening, August 14 at 8 p.m. before he leaves for the International Competition for Musical Performers in Geneva, Switzerland. The general public is again invited. Contributions are voluntary.

Empty Store Windows.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The new owner of Palmer Square overlooks the fact that all of the store tenants they are evicting have earned the support of us residents over a long period. Their dismissal as tenants is an aspersion on our judgement.

For a long time we will be coldly critical of new tenants.

To date the only signs of "development" seem to be empty store windows. Maybe rows of newly installed lady-like pink flowers are meant to cheer us.

WILL THEY FILL GROVERS MILL POND AGAIN? Is a question asked by many West Windsor residents as they view with dismay the shallow stream and weedy growth at the bottom of what used to be a 37-acre pond. This aerial view, taken in March, shows the outline of the pond before the water was drained out last fall. At the lower left is the dam under Clarksville Road. The other thoroughfare is Cranbury Road. Triangular-shaped Van Ness Park, center flat space, West Windsor's only public park, lies frontage on the pond.

ject to erosion and damage and possible collapse.

The DEP notified Mr. Dey of its findings in September, 1980, and directed him to redesign and upgrade the dam and the spillway and to prepare emergency evacuation procedures in case of dam failure. He immediately notified the agency that he could not undertake such procedures because of the high costs involved.

He also pointed out that West Windsor Township was considering taking over the dam and the responsibilities for its repair and upkeep. But if the Township decided not to take over the dam, he wrote, he would have no choice but to drain the pond, thereby removing the source of the deficiencies and hazard potential cited in the inspection report.

Condition Has Deteriorated. The deficiencies in the dam and the spillway are not the only problems. The condition of Grover's Mill Pond, like many shallow, man-made ponds, has deteriorated over the years. Run-off from upstream development has deposited layers of silt and other sediments, raising the level of the pond bed three feet and increasing the bottom-growing vegetation.

Nutrients from agricultural and lawn fertilizer promote the growth of aquatic plants such as duck weed, which in recent years has formed an impenetrable mat over most of the pond's surface. A study of the chemical and biological conditions made in 1978 showed the phosphorus concentration in Grover's Mill Pond to be 10 times that which is characteristic of eutrophic conditions. This means there is a reduction in the dissolved oxygen from minerals and nutrients to the point where plants are favored over animal life. A pond that is in a state of eutrophication is returning gradually to swamp and then to solid ground.

Concern over the deterioration of Grover's Mill Pond was brought to the attention of West Windsor Township in the 1960's, and for several years the possibility of transferring ownership from Mr. Dey to the township was discussed. A 1974 citizens committee recommended that the township purchase the dam from Mr. Dey and restore the pond. Articles of agreement were drawn up and ready for signature when the

If You're Going To Make It Financially Today, You Need Bankers Who Think Bigger Than Teddy Bears And Toaster Ovens.

Don't get us wrong. We think premiums are fine. In fact, at Security we've been known to offer some nifty gifts ourselves.

But today it takes more than premiums to help you cut it financially. It takes big ideas. Ideas that do more than just help you survive; you need ideas that help you prosper.

One Big Idea After Another.

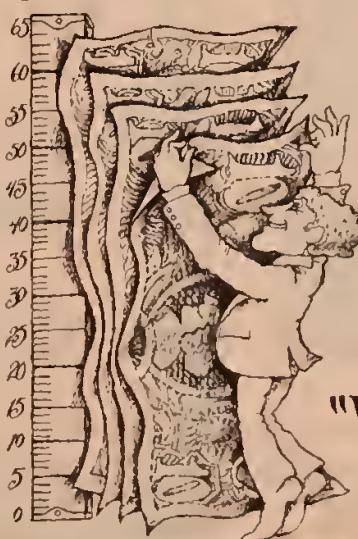

At Security, we're doing all we can to give you the products and services you need.

That's why we introduced the Security Repurchase Agreement that lets you earn big interest without tying up your money.

And our 91-Day Certificates. The short-term, high interest certificates for people who can't wait six months or more to earn big interest.

We also created three IRA plans that let you tell the tax man who's boss.

And home improvement loans that let you decide how to spend the money.

And recently, we began offering mortgages that were substantially lower than current interest rates to give first-time home buyers a shot at the American Dream.

We even came up with a program for home buyers and sellers, called the Home Seller Incentive Plan. It made selling a home easier by offering low mortgage rates to buyers.

Even the little things we do we consider big ideas if they make banking a little easier for you.

Like Saturday hours, Drive-Through Windows, and new offices in retirement communities.

Security Takes The Lead.

It's only natural that when you're a leader, people notice.

Security was listed as a High Performance Savings & Loan last year, as well as the most profitable savings & loan in our assets category.

In the first six months of this year, we once again posted a profit—an impressive accomplishment for any financial organization these days.

And just recently we acquired Princeton Savings & Loan to extend our services and philosophy to more people in New Jersey.

Our Best Idea.

At Security we're justifiably proud of the ideas and services we provide for our clients.

And yet, we're still not satisfied.

Because as far as we're concerned, the key to financial success for you—and us—is to keep the big ideas coming. Day after day, year after year.

And that, we believe, is our best idea yet.

total amount he had spent in 1931-32 to upgrade the dam, the spillway and the outlet works to the mill. A later offer by Mr. Dey to transfer the dam and pond at no cost was rejected by West Windsor and the pond, which was the after the DEP inspection and report.

Ownership Crucial to Funding. The matter of ownership is crucial to the question of funding. Informal estimates for the dredging and restoration of the pond range from $1 million to $100,000, without any formal engineering studies and without considering what upgrading of the dam and the spillway might involve in order to have a pond.

If the pond and the dam are owned publicly by West Windsor Township, Green Acres funding would be available to reimburse the municipality for up to 50 percent of project costs. The current Grovers Mill Pond Committee feels that other federal, state, county or local funding of public projects is extremely limited or nonexistent at the present time.

Nor is it known if Mr. Dey would once again be interested in reaching mutually agreeable terms of sale or transfer. There is some speculation that he wants to sell the land for development.

However, if he is interested in working with the township in seeking a solution to the problem, as is also reported, then, the Committee feels, there are both federal and state programs as well as private foundations that make grants for such projects. Area businesses and individuals might also contribute to the restoration of a community asset and natural resource.

A private conservancy could, as a tax-exempt organization, receive donations and grants from a variety of sources not available to publicly owned projects. The four most active members of the Grovers Mill Pond Committee, Richard Snedeker, Dick Dahl, Melanie Milner and Sally Martindale, have recently formed themselves as the Grovers Mill Pond and Wildlife Preserve.

The purpose of the preserve is to restore and maintain the pond and its marshland as a passive community parkland and natural wildlife habitat. Ultimately, the preserve would own the pond and be responsible for its upkeep. In the meantime, it will assist in the planning for a solution to the interlocking problems and work to attract wide membership and community support from West Windsor residents.

The Grovers Mill Pond Committee hopes to report its findings and recommendations to the West Windsor Township Committee early this fall. Meanwhile the Committee conducted an informal opinion poll this spring by means of questionnaires distributed in various locations around the town. Of 280 replies, all but one expressed an interest in restoring the pond.

—Barbara L. Johnson

It was thought last fall that letting the water out would be a temporary measure, with winterkill of some of the weeds seen as a benefit. But as the summer wears on, bringing with it mosquitoes and more weeds, residents with homes along the pond are concerned with the unsightly view and possible devaluation of their properties. Water levels in areas regularly used for irrigation have dropped, and there is concern that shallow wells may also be affected.

Mr. Dey has not heard a word from the DEP since he received its directives for upgrading the dam and the spillway, nor even in acknowledgement of his letter. Some members of the Committee privately wonder if the DEP has the authority to enforce the directives.

Both Mr. Dahl, who is chairman of the Committee, and Mr. Snedeker, who is an engineer, feel that West Windsor Township Committee has not given serious attention over the years to the problems or the possible solutions. They say one of their first priorities is to persuade the township to appropriate funds for preliminary engineering and feasibility studies — something that has not been done and which will be essential in deciding a further course of action.

For all the interlocking complications, the problems of Grovers Mill Pond are not insoluble, says James Gaffney, director of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association. But they will require some concerted effort, discussion and agreement among the different constituencies before pressure can be applied to sources of funding, he adds.

It will also take a consensus

The Xinhua agency reported that Mr. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Greer reached the summit of Mt. Muztagata on July 28 from an advance camp at 21,325 feet. They stayed an hour and then descended in a sudden snowstorm to 24,278 feet, where they spent the night. They had descended to 24,213 feet the following day when Mr. Kirkpatrick slipped and fell from the cliff. His body has not been recovered.

Suffering from snow blindness and frostbite, Mr. Greer lost his way and did not return until August 1 to the base camp from which he and Mr. Kirkpatrick had parted company from the three other members of the expedition.

They included Jerry Clayton, 34, a geologist; Bill McDowell, 60, an engineer; and Karen Ratner, 36, a doctor and the only woman in the group. All three are residents of Colorado.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was born in Princeton and educated at Princeton Country Day School, class of 1956, Hotchkiss School and the University of Colorado at Boulder where he majored in English literature and was a member of the varsity soccer and tennis teams.

After graduating from college in 1963 with honors, he spent two years in Venezuela with the Peace Corps before embarking on a teaching career that ranged from the Harvard School in North Hollywood, Calif., to the King School in Stamford, Conn., Colorado Academy in Denver, and Albuquerque Academy, Albuquerque, N.M.

At each of these schools he taught Spanish and English and was an athletic coach. He also set up the sponsorship of a foster child and organized student exchanges with Mexican students. While at Colorado Academy, he organized and led the two "youngest-ever" student delegations on educational-friendship trips to the People's Republic of China and personally raised $3,500 for these trips.

In 1980-81, Mr. Kirkpatrick spent the academic year at Sichuan University, Chengdu, People's Republic of China, teaching English to the University English teachers and to undergraduate English majors. He also set up scholarships for a Chinese teacher to Denver University and for a student to Macalester College. This past spring he coached tennis at Princeton Day School and was to have begun teaching this fall at University Liggett School in Grosse Pointe, Mich.

Mr. Kirkpatrick began mountain climbing in Norway in 1960 and had climbed the seven major peaks in the Tetons in Wyoming, completed the Kahlilna-Muldrow Traverse of Mt. McKinley and climbed such mountains as Kilimanjaro in Africa, Mt. Blanc and the Matterhorn in Europe and Aconcagua in South America. He also attempted Pike Kommunizma (24,590 feet) in the U.S.S.R. but did not complete the climb.

In addition to mountain climbing, Mr. Kirkpatrick also loved distance running. Long before it became a nationwide fad, he jogged many miles on the hilly roads near his home. Eventually, he competed in most of the major marathons around the country, realizing a personal best of 2:52 in Portland, Oregon in 1976.

Reflecting on his brother's death, Stuart Kirkpatrick commented: "Roger's

Willard W. Fales of Franklin Road, Lawrenceville, died August 4 in Mercer Medical Center. He was 76.

Mr. Fales was born in Lafayette and lived in Lawrenceville for the past 18 years. He retired in 1973 after working 23 years as a salesman for Coleman (formerly Johnson) Oldsmobile in Trenton. He was a member of Hamilton Elks Lodge No. 2464, a 35-year member of the Hopewell Valley Golf Club and a four-time seniors golf champion in the Trenton district.

Surviving are his wife, the former Alice Mitzel; a daughter Mrs. K. Arne Booth of Lawrenceville; a grandson, K. Arne Booth, 3rd of Nashotah, Wis.; his mother, Leila Quakenbush of Princeton, and a sister, Edna L. Clifton of Fairfield, Ill.

The service was held at a Hopewell memorial home, the Rev Robert Adams officiating. Burial was in Lawrenceville Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society or the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church.

OBITUARIES

In Princeton

Florence G. Crawford, 81, died August 8 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center after lengthy illness.

After the death of her first husband, Charles Rose of Hopewell, in 1940, Mrs. Crawford studied millinery and interior decorating at the Trenton School of Industrial Arts. She spent several years in New York City where she was employed by Lilly-Dache.

Her second husband, William Teets of Flemington, died in 1962. Several years later Mrs. Crawford was widowed once again upon the death of her third husband, James Crawford of Belle Mead, who died in 1972. She was a member of the Flemington United Methodist Church and the Mercer County Area Stroke Club.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews.

The service will be held this Wednesday at 2 at the Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue, the Rev H. Wayne Cranusey, pastor of the Flemington United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Ewing Church Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Mercer County Area Stroke Club, c/o the Merwick Unit, Princeton Medical Center, 79 Bayard Lane.

Bertha Mraz, 77, of Laurel Avenue, Kingston, died August 6 at Princeton Medical Center.

Mrs. Mraz was born in Zappendorf, Germany, and came to the U.S. in 1923. She was a resident of Kingston for 31 years and the wife of the late Joseph Mraz.

Surviving are a daughter, Margaret Dzientis of Wayne, a niece, Lya M. Schnorr of Monroe, N.Y., a sister-in-law, Lina H. Cohen, also of Monroe.

The service will be held on Tuesday at 10 at the Mater-supper. Special family movies will be shown in the church sanctuary at 8:30 each evening for any children and interested adults who wish to stay.

BULLETIN NOTES

A Rummage Sale will be held at the First Baptist Church, John Street and Paul Robeson Place, on Saturday, August 21, from 8 to 4. The sale is sponsored by the Pastor's Aide Group, and everyone is invited. Baked goods will also be available.

The Jewish Singles of the Windsors will hold a rap session-social evening on Thursday, August 19, at 8 at Congregation Beth Chaim, Village Road and Old Trenton Road, Route 535, West Windsor. Admission is $3 per person, and refreshments will be served.

Single and re-singled adults 25 years old and over are invited. The Jewish Singles of the Windsors has been in existence for more than four years and offers a variety of activities such as dances, speakers, sports events and trips. For information call 448-7075 or 799-9401.

The Rev. Robert A. Keefer, director of admissions at Princeton Theological Seminary, will be the guest preacher this Sunday at 10 in the summer series of chancel services in Princeton University Chapel. Mr. Keefer is an alumnus of Dartmouth College and Princeton. His sermon topic will be "Bread for Your Journey."

P.B.A. IN FUND DRIVE
To Support Community Work. The Princeton Policemen's Benevolent Association Local 130, which takes in Borough, Township and Montgomery Township police, has launched a fund drive to support its activities in these three communities.

Youth is the focus of PBA effort. A soliciting letter from James D. Agins, president of Local 130, points out that in addition to the sponsorship of youth organizations, the PBA was able, last year, to continue services to senior citizens.

In Princeton, the PBA supports its own Junior Rifle Club, the Princeton Youth Football League, the Princeton Youth Baseball League, Princeton Street Theatre, the John Witherspoon School Theatre Group, the Lewis Clinic and the Pink Panthers Basketball Clinic.

Also the Junior Olympics of the Princeton Recreation Department, the Association

Ornstein, 47 South Stanworth Drive; Andres and Isabel Elton, 41t-A Butler Avenue, both on August 3; Anthony and Diane Deutsch, 7 Major Lane, Plainsboro; Michael and Ellen Horgan, 23 Russet Road, Kendall Park; Donald and Charlene McDonald, 301-A Kingston Terrace, Kingston; Eugene and Lois Striffler Jr., t Old Oak Court, Hightstown; and Steven and Patricia Howery, 207 Loetscher Place, all on August 4.

Daughters were born to Robert and Sandra Lewis, 17 Sheffield Road, East Windsor; William and Catherine Louis, 62 Western Way; Ronald and Theresa Cilio, 27 Stratton Drive, Hamilton Square, all on July 30;

Also to Frank and Eileen Sanford, 140 Main Street, Metuchen; Jinn and Ze-Ai Wu, 33 Hamilton Square South, Plainsboro, both on July 31; Gilbert and Nancy McKenzie, 453 Walnut Lane, Ernest and Daria Bowman, 116 New Street, New Hope, both on

$10 MILLION

Raised by University. The Annual Giving program of Princeton University has exceeded $10 million for the first time in its 42-year history, according to Joseph L. Bolster Jr., director.

The $10,379,704, achieved by the end of the campaign on June 30, represented an increase of over $1.6 million, or 18 percent over the previous year, Mr. Bolster said. He attributed the total to the efforts of 2,000 alumni volunteers, who solicited gifts from 25,309 alumni, parents and friends of the University. About 55 percent of the 39,000 alumni participated in the program.

The class of 1942 led all classes, with an all-time record of $1,424,242. Eleven reunion classes set records ('12, '22, '27, '32, '37, '47, '52, '62, '67, '72 and '77) and eight other classes had totals of more than $100,000.

Corporate matching gifts cleared $1 million for the first time, Mr. Bolster reported. Over 1,000 companies now match gifts their employees make to a college.

Funds raised through annual giving contribute about 10 percent of the University's educational budget. The $10.4 million raised this year will be included in the $275 five-year campaign, launched in February. To date, $80 million has been raised toward the $275 million goal.

REUNION SATURDAY

For Stout Family. The descendants of Penelope and Richard Stout, early settlers of New Jersey, will gather Saturday at the Calvary Baptist Church in Hopewell to celebrate the Association's 54th Anniversary.

The day's events will begin at 10 a.m. and include registration at the church, a luncheon provided by church members and a meeting at 1:15. The Stout Family Association welcomes any descendants of Richard and Penelope and encourages those who aren't sure of their ancestry to come and view the many genealogy charts and identify their branch of the family.

"HOW CAN I LOCK UP THOSE BIG INTEREST RATES WITHOUT LOCKING UP MY MONEY?"

With a Repurchase Agreement from Security. Unlike money market rates that fluctuate daily. Security gives you a guaranteed rate for the entire period of your Repurchase Agreement. What's more you pay no fees or commissions. So the interest goes in your pocket, not someone else's hand! Our only requirement is that you open a $100 minimum interest-bearing checking account to facilitate payment of your interest.

You can open your Repurchase Agreement from 7 to 60 days for as little as $2,000.

And there's no penalty for early withdrawal. So you can get to every penny of your original investment if you need your money before maturity.

Stop by your nearest Security office (formerly Princeton Savings & Loan) for more information. Because it's time small savers locked up big interest. Without locking up their money.

SOME POINTS TO REMEMBER

This obligation is not a savings account or deposit and is thus not insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Your Repurchase Agreement cannot be automatically renewed and no notice of maturity will be given.

There will be no penalty imposed for early withdrawal, however no interest will be paid on withdrawals prior to maturity.

SEE EL GRECO

Bus Trip Planned. A bus trip to Washington to see the El Greco exhibit at the National Gallery has been scheduled for Wednesday, August 25 by the Princeton Art Association. Reservations may be made by calling 921-9173. The $22 fee ($20 for members of the PAA) includes transportation, tips, a brochure, snacks on the return trip and a 40-minute film.

Described by critics as "one of the exhibitions by which our age will be remembered," the exhibit includes El Greco's "View of Toledo," "St. Jerome as Cardinal" and "Laocoön," among others. Much of the exhibit has been lent by the Spanish government.

The PAA's bus will leave the Princeton Shopping Center parking lot at 7:30 a.m., returning between 9:30 and 10 that night.

ABSTRACTS AT ETS

By Ruth Goodman. "Spaces," an exhibit by Princeton artist Ruth Goodman, has opened at Educational Testing Service and will be on view in the Henry Chauncey Conference Center through September 17. Hours are 9 to 5 daily. The exhibit will not be open on weekends.

Ms. Goodman's paintings are latex abstracts on masonite. The artist, who works for Princeton architect Michael Graves and says she has been greatly influenced by his work, begins with a blank sheet of paper and a specific idea. She explains that, as she elaborates this idea, elements are abstracted from the initial shapes which then impose modifications on the whole, to accommodate the new relationships.

ENGINE NO. 3 CHAMPS

In Little League, Engine Company No. 3 won the 1982 Princeton Youth Baseball Association's Little League Championship last week when it defeated Princeton Italian American Sportsman Club, 5-4.

It was the second straight year that Engine No. 3 had won the title. Pitcher Darius Young, who tossed a three-hitter and struck out five, got the win. He finished with a 5-0 record.

The game was actually a replay of a game played earlier this season and protested. It was picked up in the top of the first when No. 3 scored one run but PIASC came back with two runs, combining a walk, an error and a base hit.

After PIASC had scored two more runs in the second to take a 4-1 lead, Engine No. 3 added a single run in the third and regained the lead with a three-run rally in the fourth. A single, a double by John Thompson, singles by Bobby Blankstein and Billy Kearny, a pair of walks and Todd Kinchla's sacrifice produced the winning runs.

A leadoff double, a walk and a double steal placed runners on second and third with no out for PIASC in the sixth. But Young pitched out of the jam by fanning the next two batters and retiring the third on a to T.J. Courtney's of Hicksville, N.Y.

Again in the bottom of the sixth, the last inning, Young received two outstanding defensive plays by shortstop Kearny and one by third baseman Thompson for the final out.

In 14 games this season, Engine No. 3 scored 191 runs and had five batters near or over the .500 mark.

"These kids worked very hard all year and deserved to win," said coach John Tocco. "This wasn't a lucky team, this was a good team."

Amazingly, of the 26 franchises in big league baseball today, more than one-fourth have NEVER been in a World Series ... Those never in a World Series: The California Angels, Houston Astros, Milwaukee Brewers, Montreal Expos, San Diego Padres, Seattle Mariners, Texas Rangers and Toronto Blue Jays.

One of the most bizarre innings ever played in big league baseball occurred on Apr. 22, 1959 at Kansas City when the White Sox scored 11 runs on ONE HIT! ... And that one hit was just a single ... There were 3 errors in that inning, one hit batman and 10 walks ... You'd never expect a major league team to be able to score 11 runs on just one hit -- but it happened.

I bet you didn't know that many health insurance plans including Blue Cross - Blue Shield do not cover children after they reach 19 years old.

Who hit the longest home run in baseball history? ... The longest ever that was officially measured was hit by Mickey Mantle in a game in 1953 ... That record homer went 565 feet.

For Sweet Jersey Corn, in a performance that manager Steven Cohen called "the toughest and finest effort our team has ever produced," the Princeton-based Sweet Jersey Corn women's softball team fought its way out of the loser's bracket to finish second in the ASA Mid-Atlantic Regional and become the first team from New Jersey to ever earn a berth in the most prestigious women's softball event in the country, the ASA Major Nationals. The forty-team National Tournament will be held in Marietta, Georgia Labor Day weekend.

Before leaving for Bellmore, N.Y. and the Regionals, SJC had completed what coach Bob Smyth called "our last piece of unfinished business in N.J." by sweeping two straight games from league rival Three Seasons, 1-0 and 5-3, to capture the Mercer County "A" League playoffs for the second straight year.

The Corn opened Regional play against the team it had defeated for the New Jersey State Championship. The Rascals of Perth Amboy, Marianne Smith and Carol Sadley. In its next game the Corn could manage only three home run to lead off the inning and give the Corn a 4-3 lead. Donna Nicholson followed with a single, Smith with a double and Sadley drove them both home for what proved to be the winning runs. The Mice rallied in the seventh inning but could only score two runs and the Corn walked off the field with a 6-5 upset.

MIXED DOUBLES FINALISTS: Victors in the finals of the 4.6 end above mixed doubles tournament sponsored by the First National Bank of Princeton are Julie Levering and Doug MacCurdy (right) of the Lawrenceville Tennis Camp. They defeated Colleen Cosgrove (left) of Princeton and Bill Curtin of Hopewell Township, 6-4, 6-4. Trophies were presented by Rhonda Skube of the First National Bank of Princeton which is supporting the series of tournaments.

In its next game, with a National Tournament berth on the line, SJC faced a rematch with T.J. Courtney's Pitcher. After the first two Corn batters were retired in the top of the six tournament games and seventh inning it appeared to who seemed to get stronger every outing, threw a three-hitter, and when Muzyka Not Yet. Muzyka singled drove home Michelle Morgan and Youngman smacked a triple to tie the game. Suburban Sports made a great relay to nail Youngman at the plate trying to stretch it into a home run, and then came up with four straight hits in the bottom of the seventh inning to win 2-1.

POST 76 ELIMINATED

From State Legion Playoffs. There will be no Cinderella story concerning Princeton Post 76 in the New Jersey American Legion Tournament playoffs.

The Princeton team, which won 10 of its last 11 to qualify for the state tournament for the first time ever, was eliminated early last week when it lost, 11-4, to Union Post 35 Thursday at Veterans Field and 6-5 in 11 innings in the losers' bracket Saturday against South Brunswick Post 76 finished with a 23-12-1 record.

"We lost a game we should have won," observed Post 76 coach Pete Millington, after the 76ers couldn't hold a 5-1 lead in the eighth inning. "We just had a bad inning; we fell apart and that was it."

Although his players were down after the loss -- they knew we should have won! -- Millington added. "Truthfully, it shouldn't detract from the rest of the season."

"The program has improved. Hopefully, it will continue to do so." By virtually any yardstick, the just completed season -- Millington's fifth as coach -- would have to be viewed as Princeton's best.

From the 17-member roster, Millington loses six, including first baseman Keith Ender, who led the Mercer County League in hitting with a .446 average. Also departing will be centerfielder Keith Phox, who hit a lusty .371; shortstop Scott Porreca (.316); third baseman Ron Kane (.291); designated hitter Judd Petrone (.291) and his leading pitcher John Marjarwitz, who entered the state tournament with a 9-1 record and an ERA of 2.75.

"We have a fairly good nucleus coming back," continued Millington who commented that the team is obviously going to need rebuilding in the infield where he loses Ender, Porreca and Kane.

Heading the list of those coming back will be outfielder-pitcher Dan Arendas who batted .389 and had a 7-1, 1.55 ERA pitching record at the end of the season. Those impressive stats earned him the league's Most Valuable Player honor.

Also returning will be second baseman Jim Scibetta (.320), right fielder Chris Huntinghake (.238), catcher Scott Ellis (.225) and pitcher Bill Bastedo. As for Millington, who picks Broad Street Park, Hamilton and Ewing, this year's league leaders to be contenders again next summer, his status is a question mark. "I haven't made up my mind if I'm coming back," he reported.

Defense Crumbles: A favorite axiom among managers is that pitching and defense will win a short series. Against South Brunswick, Post 76 got the pitching from Marjarwitz, who limited the visitors (23-5-1) to one unearned run through seven innings. It didn't get the defense, as Post 76 was guilty of an unconscionable eight errors which allowed four unearned runs to score.

In the eighth inning, two walks and an error on a double-play ball loaded the bases with South Brunswick runners. A bad throw from the outfield on the mangled double-play ball permitted one run to score and Brian Brown sent two more across with a double. Another catchable ball hit to left center "fell in" and South Brunswick had knotted the score at 5.

"We had a 5-1 lead, Marjarwitz was in control ... I don't know what happened," recalled Millington, nonplussed about the collapse. "Maybe they were looking forward to the next night."

In the 11th, South Brunswick won the game on a one-out single, another Post 76 error and Mike Striano's only hit of the game.

Post 76 had grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first on a single by Scibetta, a walk and Aren-

4.5 DOUBLES CHAMPIONS: Carolyn Diercksen of Princeton Junction (second from left) and John Gibbons (left) defeated Gail and John Talley of Hightstown, 7-5, 6-3, in the finals of the 4.5 and below mixed doubles tournament. das's two-run single. After he added a double and South Brunswick had cut the other homer in five at bats lead to 2-1, Princeton came to score four runs and drive in back with four runs in the fourth. A leadoff single by Scibetta followed by a stolen base conceded Millington, "but I base, wild pitch and Phox's think Arendas was a little ground out plated one run and tired. He was not his usual Petrone's triple in the gap in self, not the same pitcher who left center plated two more pitched in the last three or runs. Petrone then scored the four games for us."

After Union had taken a 3-0 lead in the second by scoring two runs on a single, double and another single, Post 76 narrowed the deficit to one run with a pair of runs in the fourth run on Kane's infield hit.

Too Many Guns. In its opening game with Union, Post 76 was outgunned by the update team which cracked 14 hits en route to an 11-4 win.

Union (17-4) had won eight of its last nine games before the contest and was one of the final four teams in the state tournament last year. The tenor of the game came early when leadoff hitter Howie Manzon smacked Arendas' first pitch for a home run.

Manzon, the former all-state outfielder who entered the game with a .404 batting average, was just beginning. Petrone, who had two of Princeton's seven hits off Nick Piegaro, homered with one in the sixth to account for Princeton's other two runs. Ender, 7-2, took the loss. Piegaro, who entered the game with a sparkling 1.20 ERA, won his ninth without a loss.

FLETCHER RUNS 14:11

For Personal Best. Stephan Fletcher, the 17-year old Princeton High School hurdle standout, who has a goal of competing in the 1984 Olympics, placed fifth in the finals of the 110-meter hurdles in his age division in a National AAU meet held Saturday and Sunday in Memphis, Tenn.

His time of 14:11 was his personal best. Nine runners in the senior division-age 17 and 18-competed in the championship heat. In all, 28 from across the nation from 14 regions competed in his division. The winning time for the event was a dazzling 13.2.

Earlier, in an Athletic Congress national meet in Lincoln, Neb., Fletcher reached the final heat and placed fourth with a clocking of 14:14. Again, 28 in his division competed.

Considering that Fletcher is running mainly against youths who are a year older than he is and who have a year's more experience, "I think he's doing remarkably well," commented his father and coach Lamont Fletcher.

"Number one, he got in the finals each time. In Nebraska out of eight in the finals he was number four and fifth out of

TWO SESSIONS OFFERED
 In Davis Cup League. Beginning Monday, the Princeton Community Tennis Program will offer two weeks of team tennis competition for juniors.

The Davis Cup League, which involves no lessons, offers match play for fourth through twelfth grade juniors. Students will be assigned to a team and play both singles and doubles matches against other teams throughout the week.

Conte's finally managed a rally in the last inning, scoring four runs on hits by Nancy Pesce, Barbie Falcone, Carol Ann Mazzella, and Peggy Wood. Also hitting well for Conte's were Laine Ivan (2-for-4), and Harriet Staub (3-for-4).

Against Andy's Tavern, Mike's took advantage of four errors and jumped out to a 3-0 lead going into the bottom of the first. Andy's came back and tied the score at three on a Marj Wenzkopf triple and a hit and an RBI from Cindy Henderson. However, winning pitcher Duthie gave up just two more hits the rest of the way. Offensively, Mike's put on a dazzling display of power in the third inning, connecting for 13 of its 19 overall hits, sending 16 batters to the plate, and scoring 12 runs. Sparking the attack were Breithaupt (3-for-4, triple, 2 RBIs), Morgan (2-for-4), Toscano (2-for-4, scored 3), Durland (home run, 2 RBIs), Pearce (a perfect 4-for-4, triple, home run, 2 RBIs), Baxter (2-for-3, 3 runs), and Missy McCloskey (2-for-4, 2 RBIs).

The Davis Cup League, which involves no lessons, offers match play for fourth through twelfth grade juniors. Students will be assigned to a team and play both singles and doubles matches against other teams throughout the week.

Held Monday through Friday from 9 to 12 noon, August 16-20 and again on August 23-27, the league will be under the supervision of Karen Bull. Students may enroll for one or both weeks of play.

During the first week, the session will be held at the Princeton High School and Community Park courts; during the second week, it will be held at the University Pagoda courts. Prizes will be awarded at the end of each week of competition.

Application blanks are available at the Tennis Office, 71 University Place. For further information, call 924-4343.

FREE CLINICS OFFERED
 In Tennis. A series of free tennis clinics will be sponsored by the Mercer County Park Commission throughout August at the Outdoor Tennis Center in Mercer County Park.

The first series of clinics for youngsters will be held on Saturday, August 14, 21 and 28. Instruction will begin at 9 for 10 and 11-year olds and at 10:30 for those 12 and over. Tennis Pros, Dave Mennel and Bill Stoner will instruct in the forehand, backhand, serve, and volley and explain scoring.

The second series for adult beginners will run on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 8 on August 24, 26, 31 and September 2.

For further information, call the Outdoor Tennis Center at 586-9850.

Dear Friends,

I am happy to announce the beginning of a new era for Stockton Real Estate and our joining forces with Rocking Horse Realty of 13 No.
Main Street, Cranbury, New Jersey.

This is not to mean that we are moving to Cranbury, but rather that Rocking Horse Realty will use our facilities at 32 Chambers Street, Princeton, as their branch office on a cooperative basis. This will not include my rental business which will remain under my exclusive supervision.

We look forward to a pleasant relationship together and trust that our loyal friends will continue to support us.

Sincerely,
Anne S. Stockton

Dogwood Hill is a unique residential enclave on the west side of Mount Lucas Road in Princeton Township.

The site is naturally rolling and covered with native dogwoods and large shade trees.

Eleven custom homes will be built on lots of at least three quarters of an acre, in a cluster plan with seven acres of common open space.

William Bucci Builders, Inc., are local builders with a fine record of building quality custom homes in the Princeton area.
They will build from their plans or yours. All lots are fully developed with public water, sewer and underground utilities of electric and gas.
